1985 Milestones

Dedication

Whether it be helping with the fall musical or cheering at the basketball games, this faculty member shows her enthusiasm and love for Harpeth Hall. In her own discipline she constantly improves her teaching abilities by taking classes and attending conferences. She expresses her talent and creativity through her direction and choreography of the spring dance concert. And the dance program at Harpeth Hall, under her direction, brings out talent in students who otherwise might not reach their full potential.

In addition to "5, 6, 7, 8," her most popular phrase is "It's not what happens on the step that makes it dance, it's what happens in between." True to her words, it is what she does in between classes that makes her such a special part of Harpeth Hall. Through her love, enthusiasm, and encouragement she has pushed others to grow "as the lily grows from the mud, opens to the sun, and closes to the moon, mind, sight, smell, taste, touch, and heart." It is with great respect that we dedicate the 1985 MILESTONES to Ms. Leslie Matthews.

A friend is one to whom one may pour out all the contents of one's heart

chaff and grain together

knowing that the gentlest of hands will take and sift it

keep what's worth keeping and with the breath of kindness blow the rest away. Arabian Proverb

Don't walk in front of me—
I may not follow.
Don't walk behind me—
I may not lead.
Walk beside me—
and just be my friend.
Albert Camus

Our Directors Set the Stage

I am often asked, what in my opinion, makes Harpeth Hall unique, and of course there is no one factor which is more dominant than others.

Start with a caring, capable, and involved faculty, and then add trustees who are dedicated to providing the resources and facilities necessary to sustain a first rate program. Include parents who are supportive of the policies of the school and who are anxious and willing to seek and provide what they think is the best education for their children. Add students who are supportive of each other, and who aspire to attain goals which can only be achieved by a willingness to work more than their contemporaries at other institutions.

Finally, blend a now complete facility with our spirit and tradition, and you have a school which is one of the finest in the region, and which makes my job the very best headmaster position in the entire country.

—David E. Wood
Headmaster

Harpeth Hall is a very special place because of the people here. We have a warm, caring faculty and a super student body. My job is the best because I get to know and to work with these groups. Not only is there an emphasis on a strong academic program at Harpeth Hall, but also there are extracurricular activities including clubs, the fine arts, and athletics to meet the interests of all students. The school provides the opportunity for students to develop leadership skills and through their organizations to give service to the community. There always is something new happening that is exciting and that will enrich the lives of the students.

—Polly Fessey
Middle School Director

At Harpeth Hall

I see Harpeth Hall as a unique opportunity for education of young women in a nurturing environment which combines a challenging curriculum, varied extracurricular activities, and a caring faculty and administration. This began when the doors opened in 1951 and is still true today. Harpeth Hall continues to offer opportunity for leadership, a feature which is not always available in other environments.

—Jane Jacques
Dean of Students,
College Counselor

I have distinctly different reactions to the two jobs I do for Harpeth Hall. In my role as counselor, I draw heavily from my own experiences as a student at Harpeth Hall (1964-1968). Directing Winterim is the closest thing to an ideal job that I can imagine. Where else could a person be free to help create and produce a month-long program with so few limitations? Whenever I recall my thoughts and feelings from my days as a student, I wonder how Harpeth Hall and I would have reacted had we known I was to return ten years later to teach and counsel.

—Anita Schmid
Winterim Director,
Counselor

Harpeth Hall is unique in representing constant change toward a never-changing goal: to maintain the same high standards of education the School had when it opened in 1951. My wonderful, funny, intense, and scholarly colleagues are a different group each year. Our enthusiastic, maturing, and learning students leave and enter each year. Facilities grow: Souby Hall, our first classroom building, is now a part of a complex of buildings designed to make teaching and learning possible. May Harpeth Hall always change and never change.

—Penelope Mountfort
Dean of Faculty

Working to Improve Harpeth Hall

From the standpoint of development, Harpeth Hall is unique. Because of its tradition of excellence in academic, enrichment, and athletic programs, the school offers generous support, involvement, and allegiance from its alumnae, parents, and friends. The success of the current capital funds campaign demonstrates the loyalty and financial commitment of these groups to Harpeth Hall. Finally, as an alumnae, past parent, and member of the Harpeth Hall staff, I am continually revitalized by the school spirit—a spirit which combines the friendships and memories from the past with a determined commitment to Harpeth Hall's future.

—Polly Nichols
Director of Development

The Harpeth Hall community is unique in that it has shown through the last thirty-two years a continuity of concern for education by hundreds of different people. The names and faces have changed, but the ideals have not, and this gives Harpeth Hall a strength that many schools lack. I am involved with people on both ends—graduates of the class of 1952 on up to the class of 1992. Being a part of Harpeth Hall is a worthwhile endeavor for me.

—Susan G. Brown
Director of Admissions and Alumnae

Our campus is beautiful, and our facilities are generally excellent. However, it is the people here who make Harpeth Hall the very special place it is. From the beginning those who comprise this school have worked together to make it the very best.

—Peg Herring
Business Manager

I have witnessed the uniqueness of the Harpeth Hall community from two quite different perspectives—from my role as administrative assistant and from my present position as accountant. It strikes me that cooperation among the faculty, the students, and the administration creates the caring atmosphere which sets Harpeth Hall apart from other schools.

—Bonita Steele
Accountant

Beauty and Truth?!

The Harpeth Hall English Department is a collection of unique individuals who contribute significantly to school life. Dr. Betty Marney, the chairman of the English Department, and Dr. Dona Gower sponsor LOGOS II, the school newspaper, and Mrs. Sarah Stamps sponsors Penstaff. Mr. Gordon Turnbull has organized the Harpeth Hall debate team, and he also coaches soccer. Each January, Mrs. Joan Watterfield takes several Sophomores sailing in the Bahamas, while Mr. Tom Young spends the winter coaching the varsity basketball team. Mrs. Dugan Davis, who teaches eighth grade English, coaches soccer and track. Seventh grade English teacher Mrs. Joyce Lee coaches middle school soccer and sponsors the seventh grade class. In addition to teaching, Mrs. Betty Nelson, sixth grade English teacher, and Miss Frances Wynne, reading instructor, also participate in the busy extracurricular activities of the Middle School. These extracurricular efforts made by the Department enable teachers and students to become better acquainted outside the classroom, contributing to the positive atmosphere of the school.

In my opinion, Blake's philosophical views contradict ...

That's Easy For You To Say

Harpeth Hall is lucky to have a strong foreign language department. The department not only offers learning opportunities on campus, but students may participate in several off-campus experiences as well. The Winterim, trips to Europe, the annual Junior Classical League Convention, and the Spanish Fair are exciting ways to learn about foreign cultures.

The excellence of the Harpeth Hall language department is displayed scholastically in the results of Advanced Placement Exams, National Latin Exams, and J.C.L. Convention events, as well as in frequent national rankings on the National French Exam. The enthusiasm for foreign language generated by the department is evident in the participation in the language clubs. In sum, the language department is an integral part of school life—both in and outside the classroom.

Reactions, Equations, Confusions, Frustrations

The nine dedicated members of Harpeth Hall's Math Department try to share with the students their love of mathematics and a sense of its importance, as well as to teach them fundamental skills. In the students' opinion, they are succeeding. The number of students who continue their math studies through their senior year has greatly increased over the past several years. Department chairman, Mrs. Carol Oxley, feels that one unique aspect of the Harpeth Hall Math Department is the attitude of the students and teachers toward learning. The students care about their work, and for this reason, teaching them is enjoyable. The teachers are willing to make an extra effort to help students understand the concepts, and they also emphasize the importance of the girls helping each other. Participation in math contests is encouraged, and results of the contests demonstrate Harpeth Hall's quality math students. The Math Department is excited about the new Math and Science wing now under construction, but regardless of where the classes are taught, the quality of the teaching is superior.

Caution: Explosive Faculty!

Harpeth Hall's prestigious Science Department offers classes in biology, chemistry, and physics. Because of new construction, class format has changed somewhat. The course content, however, has remained essentially the same. When asked which class she prefers to teach, biology or chemistry, Miss Penny Mountfort says she has never chosen a favorite but rather loves the one that she teaches in any given year. The new additions to the department are Mr. Heath Jones, who teaches physics, and Mr. Poropatic, who teaches chemistry. Department Chairman Carolyn Felkel teaches advanced biology and biology, while A.P. Biology is taught by Mrs. Jane Norris. Miss Kerry Sullivan, Mrs. Georgianne Day, and Mrs. Karen Nash teach the fundamentals of science in the Middle School, preparing their students for the challenges of biology, chemistry, and physics. Both the Middle and Upper School Science teachers strive to maintain the level of excellence for which the Harpeth Hall Science curriculum is noted. Students find Harpeth Hall's Science curriculum challenging and stimulating.

The History Department at Harpeth Hall is made up of a diverse group of teachers. Dr. Michael Bouton, the new department chairman, teaches all of the European History classes and is noted for his renowned full-period pop quizzes. Mrs. Ginger Justus teaches Government and Philosophy and is a co-sponsor of the Senior Class, a member of the Disciplinary Committee, and the sponsor of the Honor Council. Mr. Mike Goodwin teaches all the sections of American History and coaches Freshman Basketball. In addition, Mrs. Peg Williams, a local artist, teaches the popular elective, Art History. During Winterim, Freshmen and Sophomores enjoyed the Current Events and Civil War classes offered by the History Department.

The Middle School History teachers include Mrs. Elaine Simpson who teaches eighth grade Ancient History, Mrs. Merrie Clark who teaches seventh grade U.S. History, and Mrs. Nancy Duvier who teaches sixth grade geography. Each of the Middle School teachers is active in either coaching Middle School Athletic teams or in helping produce the eighth grade play.

Enriching The Lives Of Others

The Fine Arts Department strives to broaden students minds and provide as many opportunities for creativity as possible. The teachers want each student to share the enjoyment of art, dance, theater, and music. Often the endeavors of these professionals overlap, and they work together to put on spectacular productions of art, music, dance, and theater. Since the completion of the McMurray Center, the Fine Arts Department has flourished. Dance classes began with the arrival of Ms. Leslie Matthews, and when Mrs. Sandra Davis joined the Harpeth Hall faculty, the theater program improved tremendously. Harpeth Hall's music teacher Mrs. Ray Berry developed the chorus into a first-class ensemble, while Mrs. Sharon Charney and Mr. Peter Goodwin have raised the quality of the studio art program. This dedicated faculty works together to build student creativity and skills in the fine arts.

Physical Education

Physical education, taught by Mrs. Russ and Mrs. Moran, is a major part of our education at Harpeth Hall. Mrs. Moran has worked at Harpeth Hall for about twenty-seven years and feels that P.E. is extremely important. Her goal in teaching P.E. is "to get every girl in the school involved in an individual endeavor and a team endeavor." She enjoys the contact with students in an atmosphere that is more relaxed than a classroom. A unique feature of Harpeth Hall's P.E. program is its continuity in building up skills from grade to grade. Students participate in sports such as volleyball, basketball, soccer, tennis, badminton, table tennis, hockey, and softball. With the combined efforts of Mrs. Russ and Mrs. Moran, Harpeth Hall's physical education program is among the best and most active in Tennessee.

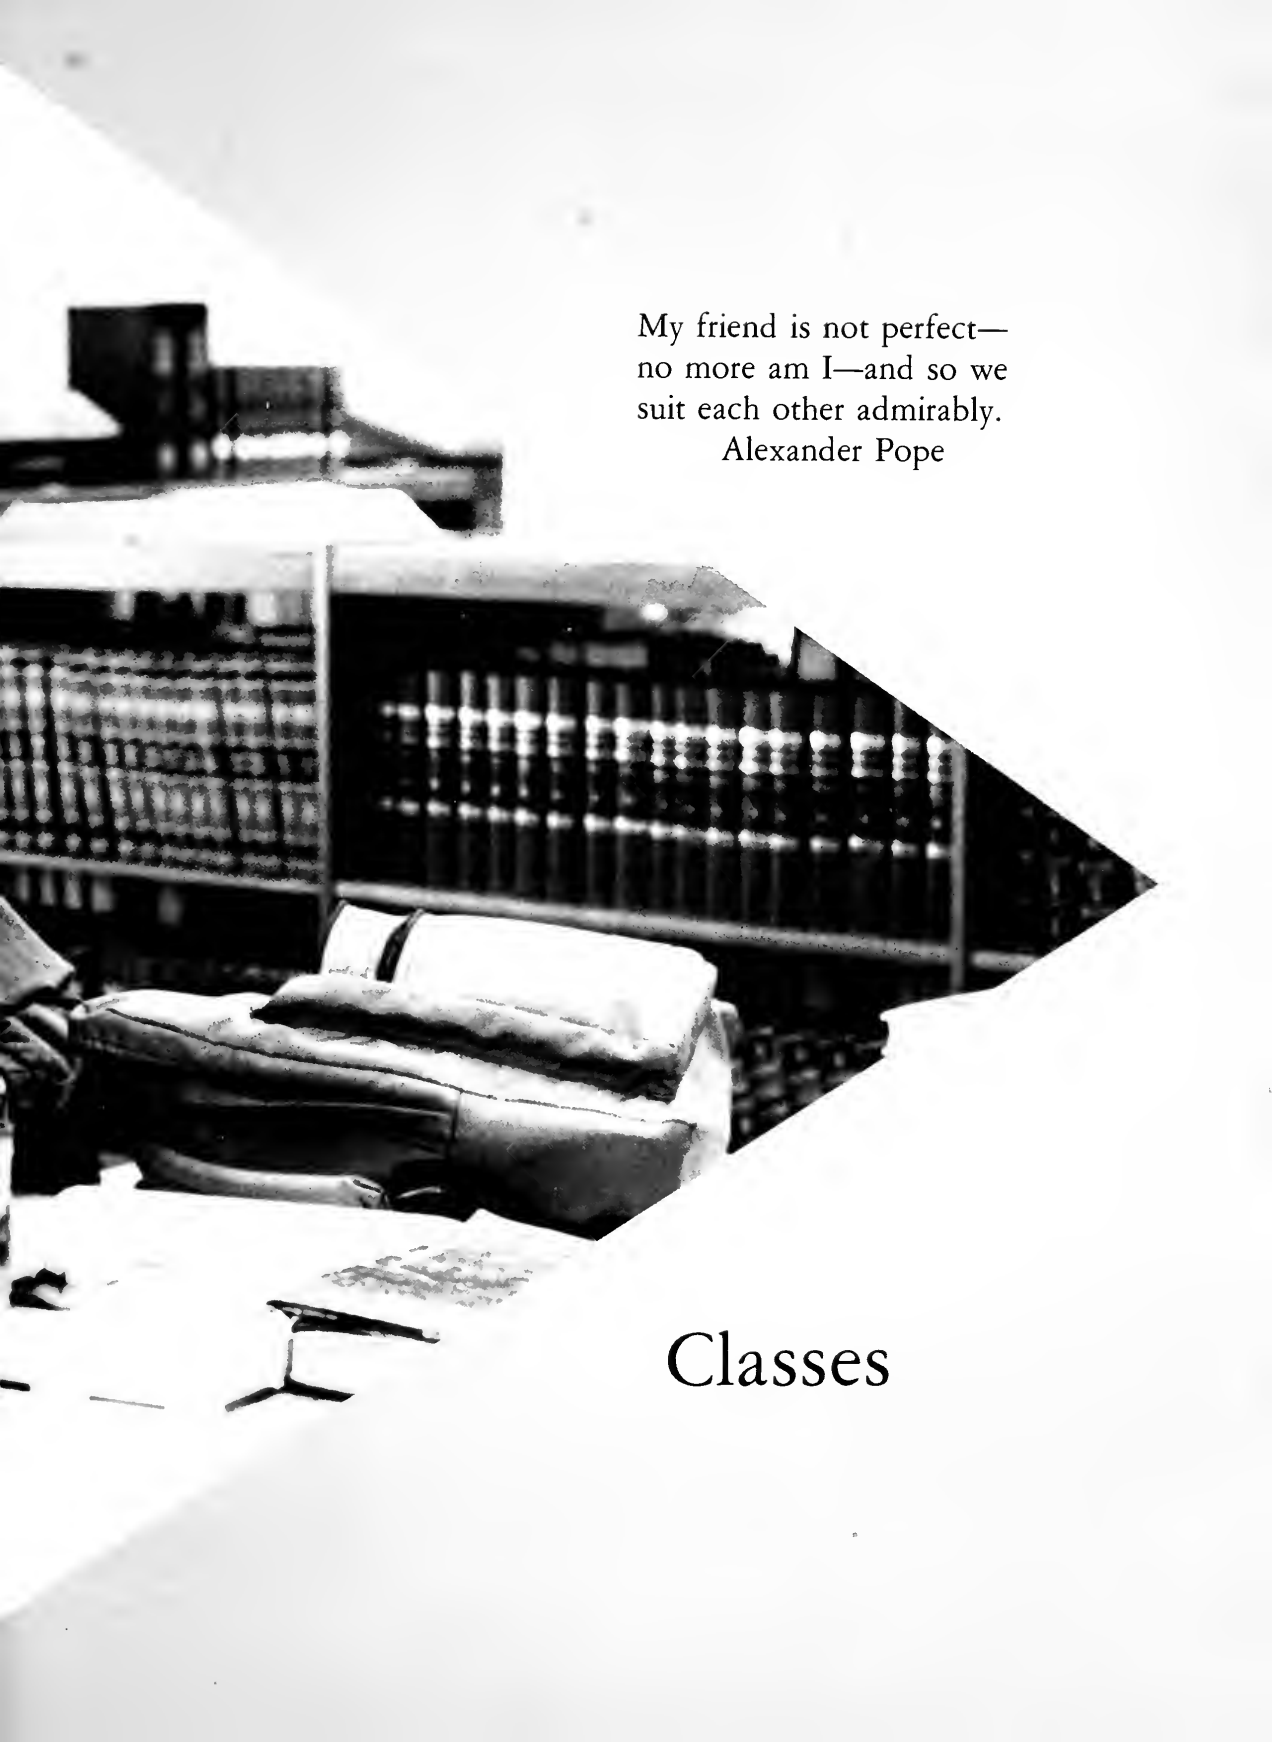

Mrs. Mary Lee Manier, Mrs. Eleanor Roberts, Mrs. Elaine Green, Mrs. Annie Trost, Miss Nan Reed, Mrs. Sally Mabry, Mrs. Nancy Rumsey, Mrs. Jean Ayers, Mrs. Peggy Webb.

Special Staff

The Special Staff at Harpeth Hall is indispensable to the school. Students are probably most familiar with the secretaries, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Webb, who make certain that everyone is at school and in class. Mrs. Webb is new this year, but it is her tenth year working in a school office which she enjoys because she "likes being with people." Other important members of The Special Staff include the librarians, Mrs. Manier and Mrs. Rumsey, who help students with English term papers and other research. Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Ayers, and Mrs. Smith are administrative aids in Souby Hall, while Mrs. Mabry keeps things running smoothly at the Middle School office. Finally, Miss Nan Reed and Mrs. Nan Russell help out in other areas of the Middle School.

My friend is not perfect—no more am I—and so we suit each other admirably.

Elizabeth Leigh Horton

Late Spring Class

(for Leigh)

We met stretched out and dozing in the grass,
Your best friends baffled, absent, going dot
To dot.

The sun was on us all, only heavier
On the flesh we wanted you to have. In "My Last Duchess"

We read of pert Lucrezia, dead at seventeen,
Locked in a body not her own.
I know I have never taught so well
As thinking what Lucrezia might have been

And of this one old world you would see
Only today.
Afterwards, when you needed to rest
And were proud to say 'Ask me about the Duchess,'
Something bloomed and broke inside of me.

The Senior Scoop

You might ask yourself: What does a Senior—that spirited girl worshipped by some (if not all) underclassmen—do all day? Well, it starts like this . . . she arrives at school NO earlier than 8:07 and proceeds to drink a Diet Coke and stuff her face with popcorn. From there she sleepwalks to her first class, only to return to the Senior House afterwards for two Diet Cokes and more popcorn. She repeats this procedure until she has consumed nine Diet Cokes and four quarts (minimum) of popcorn. Now FULLY AWAKE (nothing like a little caffeine), she cranks up the radio, parks it in front of ALL MY CHILDREN, catches up on all the latest news, and, in general, acts about as mature and sophisticated as a freshman. Again you might ask: Now how will I know this so-called SENIOR when I see her? I'll tell you—she'll be the enthusiastic, friendly one in the red and white holding the six-pack of Diet Coke and singing "ARE YOU A SENIOR?"

Time Flies When You're Having Fun

It's been one of those days!

Seven Year Club

Oldies But Goodies

Seven years of our lives have been spent at Harpeth Hall. Over these years the forty-five girls that began together in the sixth grade have changed a great deal. When we reflect on past events, we remember them as if they were yesterday, and we laugh and cry—now as much as we did then. Here is to the past seven years of our lives—years we will always treasure.

Together we made it through seven tough years of hard work, frustrating times, and days when we believed that nothing else could possibly go wrong. But above all the bad times, stand those of joy, happiness, and friendship.

We made it together as one, connected by an unbreakable bond that will last forever.

To see how far we have come—bound together by love, friendship, and strength—can only give us courage to see how far we can strive.

Mandy Haynes, '85

Friendship is the only cement that will hold the world together.

Organizations

Taking Pride and Pleasure

Student Council

Welcoming the year with a back-to-school barbecue, the Student Council began a year full of activities. Increasing school spirit was the Council's main goal which they accomplished through a variety of events. These included sponsoring sister class competitions throughout the year which culminate in the Spirit Week in the spring.

Led by Elizabeth Hightower, Mandy Haynes, Barbara Keith Brown and Mrs. Jane Jacques, the Council hosted a variety of other activities through the year. These included a zany Halloween Dud's Day and party, a slumber party in April, holiday assemblies, numerous Dud's Days and a valentines with M.B.A. The Council offered students an opportunity to "go crazy" at Fall Combo and hosted the popular Hawaiian Holiday dance in the early spring. A charity the Council opted for this year was Aerobics for the Cancer Society before Spring Break.

The Council served to boost spirit not only classes but within individuals as well. They surprised students with candy on lockers and doughnuts and recognized outstanding faces on campus throughout the year.

Honor Council

Sponsored by Mrs. Ginger Justus and composed of representatives from each class, the Honor Council worked to encourage and uphold the code of honor throughout the year. Acting as a recommending body the Honor Council functioned in total confidentiality to ensure fairness. It handled cases involving lying, cheating, and stealing, over which Mr. Wood had final jurisdiction. Perhaps the importance of the Council was best described by President Ruthie Frederiksen who commented that "the Honor Council is a vital part of Harpeth Hall, for not only does it serve to uphold the honor system, it more importantly acts as a reminder to the students of the importance of personal honor."

Middle School Council

The Middle School Council, sponsored by Mrs. Sally Mabry, organizes activities that involve grades six through eight. Representatives from each homeroom combine efforts with the officers in planning events such as the Grandmothers' Tea. The Middle School Student Council also organizes activities for special occasions, such as the mock election held on Election Day, and the Pumpkin-Carving contest on Halloween. This year the Middle School Student Council has not only helped the Middle School itself, but it has also served the community by organizing a food collection for the needy.

Recognition of

Cum Laude

Cum Laude is a high school honor society modeled after Phi Beta Kappa. Each year the Cum Laude Society elects new members from both the Junior and Senior classes. To qualify a Junior must be in the top 10% of her class, while a Senior must be in the second 10% of her class. Faculty members are elected on the basis of either previous membership in Cum Laude or membership in Phi Beta Kappa. Dona Gower, this year's guest speaker at the induction ceremony, addressed the audience on the political wisdom of her childhood heroine, Queen Elizabeth I. The Cum Laude Society holds an annual dinner for its members, and this year Mrs. Louise Wills graciously hosted the affair.

Mu Alpha Theta

Mu Alpha Theta Society is a national organization which honors high school students who are gifted in mathematics. Chartered in 1975, the Harpeth Hall chapter recognizes girls who have maintained a B average or better for three years of math; new members are initiated in the spring of their junior year. The goal of the society is to encourage its members to participate in the various contests and competitions which take place during the school year. These competitions range from the monthly interscholastic contests within Nashville to the State Contest at Vanderbilt and the National Math Exam administered to advanced students each spring. In the words of sponsor Mrs. Andrews, "Through club activities, it is hoped that each member can help inspire other students to pursue topics in mathematics at an advanced level."

Excellence

Société Honoraire de Français

Students who have demonstrated excellence in the study of French are received into the elite Société Honoraire de Français. Mrs. Libby Evans founded the Harpeth Hall Chapter in order to recognize students excelling in French and to encourage enthusiasm for the language. The honor is restricted to those students having a cumulative average of an A- or above for three years of French study. The members must be rising Juniors or Seniors and have an overall B average. This spring five new members were welcomed into the society. They are Rachel Landon, the only new member from French IV, Julie Walker, Ellen Crawford, Beth Mitchell, and Debbie Maynard, who represent the French III classes.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll is a national honor society which recognizes excellence in journalism. The Harpeth Hall chapter admits juniors and seniors who are either editors or rising editors of a publication, and who rank in the top third of their class. In addition, Quill and Scroll offers special awards to students who have contributed significantly to a publication but are not members. Mrs. Libby Evans established the Harpeth Hall chapter of Quill and Scroll in 1982, and the present sponsor is Mrs. Betsy Turnbull. Initiation into Quill and Scroll occurs each spring. Admission into the society is the highest journalistic honor given at Harpeth Hall, and all members should be proud of their achievement.

MILESTONES is Harpeth Hall's yearbook, an illustrious creation distributed at the end of every school year. The annual enables student to relive fond memories of the year through its descriptions of dances, plays, assemblies, special events, and various school functions. But MILESTONES is not merely the school's yearbook; it is also the annual staff: a dedicated group of talented individuals who spend their Friday afternoons assembling the book. The staff members work with different editors each to learn basic skills, including picture-cropping and the drawing of layouts. The MILESTONES staff, with their sponsor Mrs. Turnbull, do an excellent job of capturing the year's special moments.

For People With Enquiring Minds

LOGOS II covered the events and changes of Harpeth Hall's 1984-1985 academic year with enthusiasm and excellence. Under the supervision of sponsors Dr. Betty Marney, Dr. Dona Gower and Miss Frances Wynne, both the writing and photographer staffs turned out four fulfilling and interesting issues this year. The staff includes a broad scope of students from both Middle and Upper Schools and is directed by Co-Editors-in-Chief Cecilia Wong and Elizabeth Martinez, the first juniors ever to hold this post. Both Cecilia and Elizabeth attended a journalism workshop last summer on investigative reporting skills in order to learn how to guide the staff efficiently.

Along with covering the usual subjects such as art, movies, books, school events, athletics, academics, and the students themselves, the staff addressed more important issues concerning both the school and the outside community in an effort to keep students aware. They also wrote articles covering Winterim experiences, Student Council activities, and issues directly related to the students such as parking and intramural sports. In addition, the paper dealt with the addition of a new sport, riflery, and highlighted exceptional students in each publication. Writing for LOGOS II is an exciting and rewarding experience for students interested in journalism.

One-Hundred Percent Inspiration

Shelly Martin, Heidi Vastbinder, Katy Quillen, Sarah Stamps

Penstaff is a club composed of students who have a yearning to write poems and short stories. Under the guidance of Katy Quillen, the president of Penstaff, and Mrs. Sarah Stamps, the sponsor, the members review poems written by students who wish to be members. Once a girl has two of her works accepted, she automatically becomes a member of Penstaff. This year, Penstaff initiated its new members at a Christmas party, and the club published a Christmas Anthology that it sent to various people. Towards the end of the year, the Penstaff members gathered together to review the creative works submitted to HALLMARKS, a literary magazine which they publish annually.

French Club

Le Cercle Français is a club actively dedicated to sharing an appreciation of French culture with others. The club's guest speakers reflect this spirit of cultural awareness. In the fall Betsy Kennedy, National French Exam winner, discussed her summer exchange in Canada. In the spring Mrs. George Van described her former home, the Province of Quebec. For AFS Celebrations the club decorated the French room, whose festive atmosphere reflected the spirit of Mardi Gras. During Language Week at Harpeth Hall, the French Club sponsored a breakfast of hot chocolate and pastries, allowing everyone to experience a taste of life in France. The club also provided a French film and an International Duds Day to complement the other activities of Language Week.

Tracy Orcutt, Mrs. Evans, Sarah Chang, Diana Cherry.

American Field Service

The American Field Service is an organization designed to foster international cooperation and understanding through student exchange programs. AFS Celebrations provides cultural exposure to the food, customs, music, and dancing of different foreign countries. This year's program was a culinary success featuring fifteen countries, including Jamaica, India, and Ireland. AFS also sponsored the spring International Dessert Fest. During AFS weekend exchange students visited Harpeth Hall before beginning their tour of the United States. Although Harpeth Hall did not host an exchange student this year, an AFS student will join our community for the 1985-86 school year. AFS also hopes to offer a Harpeth Hall student a partial scholarship for a one-month summer exchange program next year, which would complete the cycle of cultural exchange.

Culture Clubs?

Junior Classical League

JCL, the Junior Classical League, is among the most active organizations at Harpeth Hall. Officers Cecilia Wong, Katherine Collins, Andrea Carlsen, Gretchen Strayhorn, and Kristin Breuss work hard to plan the club's many activities which include having dinner together twice a year, sponsoring the popular Italian room at AFS Celebrations and sending winning Certamen teams to the Latin quiz bowls. All members are encouraged to take the National Latin Exam. According to the members, the highlights of the year are the State and National Conventions where they compete in events ranging from Dramatic Presentation to swimming and have a great time. In the words of the JCL song "Searching the realms of the golden past, we follow the classics; truth at last!"

Katherine Collins, Cecilia Wong, Kristin Breuss, Gretchen Strayhorn, Andrea Carlsen, Mrs. Drews.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club at Harpeth Hall is an enthusiastic group of students who try to increase awareness of the presence and importance of Spanish in the United States. Every year the members see several Spanish movies, and this year they have started a tradition of going out to eat once a month at a Spanish or Mexican restaurant. They share their enthusiasm with the school by having a pinata party and singing Spanish Carols at Christmas time. Early in the year they start preparing to defeat Father Ryan at the Spanish Fair on March 30. President Shannon Kiss and sponsor Mrs. Marion Couch encourage the members to enjoy participating in Spanish Club activities.

Helping Others Perform

Key Club

The Harpeth Hall Key Club is an active service organization. The Key Club emphasizes volunteer work and oversees one major project a month. For example, in October the group held a Halloween party at Donor Belmont, in December it sponsored caroling at General Hospital, and in February the Key Club sold Valentine carnations. Students become members of the Key Club by obtaining a minimum of twenty-five charity hours and by paying five dollars in dues. The Harpeth Hall chapter was founded in 1980 and was among the first all-female Key Clubs. For three of its four years of existence, the Harpeth Hall Key Club has won the Most Outstanding Key Club award in its division, a continuing honor indicative of the efforts of the members and their sponsor, Mrs. Louise Wills, to help the community.

Playmakers

The Harpeth Hall students and community are lucky to have Playmakers, an active and professional drama club. The Playmakers put on two productions each year, a fall musical and a spring play. Both shows require an incredible amount of work in set construction, publicity, and acting, all of which the Playmakers willingly provide. When the Playmakers are not producing a play, they occasionally get together for dinners, plays, and movies. In addition to the Playmakers, Harpeth Hall has a Thespian Society chapter, the National Honor Society for Drama. New members are initiated twice a year, based on the number of hours they have contributed to the drama program. Mrs. Sandra Davis sponsors both the Playmakers and the Thespian Society, while Becca Fogg serves as president.

The Art of Debate

Debate Club

The Harpeth Hall Debate Club built upon last year's experience to have a successful year. Sponsored by Mr. Gordon Turnbull, the debaters went to the Madison Overton Invitational, the Selma Alabama Invitational, and to local tournaments to present arguments on this year's national debate topic, "Resolved: the Federal Government should provide employment for all employable citizens living in poverty." Each debater must be able to argue both the affirmative and negative sides of this topic, a task requiring thorough research. Harpeth Hall is affiliated with the National Forensic League, which awards individuals for achievement, as well as the Tennessee High School Speech and Drama League.

Art Club and National Art Honor Society

The Art Club allows students interested in art to participate in different art-related experiences. Membership is open but also consists of those students belonging to the National Art Honor Society, which recognizes sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have shown outstanding ability in art. Sponsored by Mr. Peter Goodwin and Mrs. Sharon Charney, the club participated in sketching field trips, finished the mural outside the Upper School art room, and became involved in various other activities. The Art Club attended art shows in Harpeth Hall's Marnie Sheridan Gallery, as well as in several other local art galleries. The club also raised money to purchase a gift for the Art Department.

Outing Club

The Outing Club is an organization which provides Harpeth Hall students with exciting trips and activities. The Outing Club is led by Kathie Jones, Rachel Landon, and Lynne Evans, who respectively serve as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer. In the past, only club members were allowed to join in on the fun, but now all students are encouraged to participate in rafting, skiing, rapelling, climbing and caving excursions. Kathie Jones says that she "mainly wants people to be involved who would otherwise never have the opportunity."

Lynne Evans, Mrs. Norris, Kathie Jones, Rachel Landon.

Athletic Association

The Harpeth Hall Athletic Association is an organization which sponsors the intramural program and governs all athletics at Harpeth Hall. Sarah Sitton, Tracy Orcutt, and Nancy Brown precede over the AA as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer. To become a member of the AA, a student must gain fifty points by participating in Harpeth Hall sports. In an effort to raise money, the Athletic Association sold sleeveless Harpeth Hall sweatshirts, which became so popular that they are now a part of the uniform. The AA provides Harpeth Hall with successful leadership of its athletic programs.

Nancy Brown, Sarah Sitton, Tracy Orcutt.

Chorus

Several times during the school year the Harpeth Hall Chorus presents entertaining concerts for the community. Their first performance is a fall choral assembly for the entire student body. In December the Upper School and Eighth Grade Choruses display their talents by singing a variety of holiday songs. Each spring the Harpeth Hall Chorus combines with the M.B.A. Chorus to present a special performance. Under the direction of Mrs. Ray Berry and the leadership of President Katy Quillen, the Upper School Chorus rehearses three times a week throughout the year.

Greenie Meanies

Harpeth Hall's sixth grade is divided by lot into two colorful teams, the Greenie Meanies and the Greyhounds. The main goal of both groups is to provide service for others. Though the teams are separate, they do many of the same things and often cooperate on service projects such as raising money for worthy causes. Both teams elect captains twice a year. The entire Middle School is divided into the four traditional clubs: Eccowasin, Triad, Angkor, and Ariston. These clubs compete against each other in intramurals such as volleyball and basketball to earn points. At the end of the year during the Honor Day awards ceremony, the club having earned the most points receives the Citizenship Cup. These clubs also work together performing service projects. This year they bought two hundred and fifty stockings to be stuffed and given to the Salvation Army, a project which in the past has been very successful. The Middle School clubs provide production interaction between the classes throughout the school year.

Ballet Club

Under the instruction of Ms. Leslie Matthews and Mrs. Stephanie Hamilton, Harpeth Hall dancers have the opportunity to pursue study in four types of dance. Harpeth Hall offers extracurricular instruction in the Modern and Jazz Clubs, taught by Ms. Matthews, and in the Ballet and Tap Clubs, taught by Mrs. Hamilton. An audition for each of the four clubs is held at the beginning of the school year. During the first semester the clubs meet once a week for two hours to learn combinations, to work on technical skills and to do improvisations. In the second semester, the dancers work together, using the knowledge they accumulated to create dances for the concert which they present in the spring. The effort the dancers put into the concert shines through in the quality of the performance. The concert is a professional production in every aspect, from the choreography to the musical composition by David Humphreys, the accompanist for the clubs. In sum, Harpeth Hall's superior facilities, top-notch instructors, and dedicated students contribute to a dance program which is without equal at the high school level.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The spirit of our school is not just found in the ghost of Souby Hall but also in the varsity cheerleaders. This year's squad, led by its two seniors Jessica Reynolds, captain, and Carol Potter, co-captain, first revealed its talent while attending a summer camp at Vanderbilt sponsored by the International Cheerleader's Foundation. As testimony to their dedication and hard work, they received many awards including a national trophy for the most-improved squad.

During the school year the cheerleaders boosted school spirit and attendance at games. As well as supporting athletic teams and events, they sponsored Duds days, presented two assemblies, and organized Spirit Week. Classes competed for the most-spirited award during Spirit Week, and some male faculty participated in the Mr. Legs contest. The varsity cheerleaders, with the support of their sponsor Mrs. Evans, gave our athletes a "leg up" on the competition.

Freshmen Cheerleaders

This year's freshman cheerleaders were a lively and spirited group. Mrs. Schmid sponsored the squad, which practiced strenuously after school to perfect its routines. In addition to supporting the freshman basketball team at all their home games, the girls accompanied the team when they played at other schools. The freshman cheerleaders promoted school spirit and encouraged their classmates to attend the games. Without the support and enthusiasm of the freshman class cheerleaders, the freshman basketball team would not have enjoyed as successful a season.

Middle School Cheerleaders

Wearing green skirts and white sweaters, the Middle School cheerleaders promote school spirit by cheering at basketball games and holding pep rallies. There are two squads, a sixth grade squad and a combined seventh and eighth grade squad, which are elected by the students. These girls practice once a week under the direction of their captain. One unplanned pep rally stands out in the mind of Jennifer Rose, the captain of the seventh and eighth grade squad. Everyone crowded around in the front hall and cheered loudly, creating a great feeling of excitement. The school spirit in the Middle School is a result of the enthusiasm of the students and the dedication of their cheerleaders.

Sports

Runners Have

This year's Cross Country team made a strong comeback from last year. They were undefeated in the dual meets, they won the league championship, and they placed first in the NIL. The Honeybears again excelled in the region and ended their season with fifth place in the state. Tracy Orcutt, Amanda McPherson, and Sarah Hardison were named to the All-NIL team, while Kristin Mitchell, Kim Oliver, and Jennifer Cox were named to the Second team. Amanda McPherson, Kristin Mitchell, Tracy Orcutt, and Sarah Hardison received additional honors when they were named to the All-Metro team. Mrs. Russ summarized the objective of the 1985 team: "to bring the city championship and the regional championship back to Harpeth Hall and to get back to the state meet." The Cross Country team met its goals with a truly outstanding season.

The Will To Win

As the most successful team in the history of Harpeth Hall, the varsity volleyball team accumulated an astounding 21—2 win loss record. Led by seniors Angie Gaw, Paige Thomas, and Laura Lynn Molesworth and coached by Mrs. Georgianne Day, the team received many honors, both as a group and individually during their long season.

Practice began in early August, and the fifteen players attended volleyball camps at U.T., Father Ryan, and McGavock. As the girls began the year, it was clear that they would have a great season. In late September the team competed in the Father Ryan Invitational, where Harpeth Hall continued its impressive record by winning the tournament.

In post-season competition Harpeth Hall won the District Championship, in which several of the girls received individual honors. The Honeybears advanced to the Regionals where they lost a match to Overton, ending an illustrious season. Angie Gaw, Paige Thomas, and Kristin Breuss were honored as members of the All-Nashville first team, and Laura Lynn Molesworth, Nancy Brown, and Susie Stevens received second team honors.

The freshmen volleyball team showed promise as it reached the quarterfinals in the District, and the Middle School team finished fifth in the H.V.A.C.

Cannot Be Beat

Striving To Reach

The Harpeth Hall School soccer teams showed great promise this year, considering that they have only been playing for three years. Coached by Mrs. Dugan Davis, Mr. Gordon Turnbull, and Miss Kathy Lazenby, the girls enjoyed themselves during the short season. Practice began in August, and the girls were divided into the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams. The J.V. team consisted of fourteen freshmen, sophomores, and juniors while the Varsity was composed of twenty players from all classes.

The teams began their season a week after their first practice. The league in which they played, the Middle Tennessee Girls Soccer League, was composed of nine teams from this area. In the District Tournament the girls played several tough games in changing weather and placed fourth. Seniors Sarah Sitton and Peggy Pendergrass and freshman Mary Ann Ozier were recognized as members of the All-District team.

At the season's end, the varsity finished with a record of 6-6-1, the J.V. with a 4-2 record, and the Middle School Team defeated Ensworth to place third in the H.V.A.C.

Their "Goals"

Honeybears Shoot

Fighting through a long season, the Varsity Basketball team finished a grueling year with a record of thirteen and thirteen. The team worked hard, attending camps during the summer to prepare for the season. Under the leadership of coach Tom Young, the girls played many close games, and the highlight of the season was the defeat of St. Paul's, a win which led to a first place showing in the Harpeth Hall Invitational. Seniors Sarah Sitton, Kim Jones, and Christine Fredricksen led the team, and Coach Young commented that Sarah and Kim played their best season ever.

In the District Tournament, the team won one game and finished third. The district win led them to the Regionals where they were defeated. Coach Young praised the team's effort: "The time and commitment that the girls put in is commendable."

The freshman team had another successful year with a record of nine wins and six losses. Led by coach Mike Goodwin, the team played well during the season and, due to the loss of two of their players, they were defeated in the last second by Father Ryan in the tournament.

The Middle School team also rallied to a successful season. The twelve seventh and eighth graders worked and played hard during their short but intense season. The team was coached by Mrs. Tiger Williams who led the girls to a winning record. The highlight of the season was the HVAC tournament; the team beat Brentwood in double overtime to reach the finals where they lost to Northside. At the tournament, three members of the Harpeth Hall team were named to the All-Tournament team. Overall, the dedication and efforts of the girls paid off in a successful season. Coach Williams best described the season in saying "We took girls with moderate talent and taught them to play as a team with twelve stars." The sixth grade team, coached by Mrs. Nancy Duvier, also had an impressive season as they finished second in their tournament.

Runners, Take Your Mark

This year the Harpeth Hall track team had a very exciting season. With Susan Russ and Mark Webb coaching, the team won first place in the McCallie Invitational meet, third in the Banner Relays, fourth in the Optimist Relay Metro Championship, and was the runner-up in the TSSAA Region II A-AA meet. The team achieved a dual meet record of 6-2. School records were set by Mimi Baker, Beth Berry, Tracy Orcutt, Melanie Russell, and the relay team consisting of Beth Berry, Andi Boklage, Melanie Russell, and Amy Welhoelter. Meet records were set by Tracy Orcutt and the relay team. This great season reached its climax in sending ten girls to the state track meet, in which senior Tracy Orcutt won both the 1600 meter and the 3200 meter runs. The team finished sixth in the state. The whole track team deserves to be commended for their hard work and success.

Serving Up A Great Season!

The Harpeth Hall tennis team for the 1984-85 school year enjoyed a prosperous season under the enthusiastic supervision of Mrs. Pat Moran. The team of thirteen girls included seniors Angie Gaw and Diana Cherry. This year team members were not required to have regular practices, but they did have challenge matches each week and group lessons after school several times a week. This year the team went to the Rotary Invitational in Chattanooga and held the Chadwell Invitational here at Harpeth Hall. For four straight years the Harpeth Hall tennis team has won both the district and regional tournament. This year Diana Cherry advanced to the State in singles competition where she lost a close match to her rival from G.P.S. Plans for next year include regular team practice twice a week, and a trip to Atlanta to play against Westminster, Marist, and G.P.S. during a weekend tournament.

Diana Cherry, Ellen Sergent, Wendy Bryan, Beth Schweikert, Buffy Baker, Ellen Nelson, Jenny Amacher, Kristen Breuss, Laura Francis, Anne Crook, Mrs. Pat Moran, Olivia Daane, and Susan Wattleworth.

Middle School Scores At Softball

The middle school softball teams had an outstanding season this year. The sixth grade team was coached by Mrs. Marie Burr while the seventh and eighth grade team showed their strength by winning games against arch rivals Ensworth and Brentwood and by finishing second in the HVAC league. The starting members of the team include Mary Margaret Crowell, Marla Connelly, Katie Braden, Kari Lillicrap, Courtney Coker, Jenny Walker, Julie Hartzog, and Laura Gaw. Rebecca Grier, a powerful pitcher, received the Most Valuable Player award at the middle school sports banquet. Since the team showed great depth this year, next year's returning players promise to keep Harpeth Hall's middle school softball team a formidable opponent.

Kathy Falk, Mary Nichols, Vicki Preston, Kelly Ann Inman, Tara Scarlett, Marci Allen, Elizabeth Branham, Dede Simons, Susan Moulton, Kati Asbury, Alva Herbert, Meredith Weigel, Suzanne Battis, Alison Brooks, Lisa Collin, Christy Stallings.

Our Sports Stars

The Seniors once again provided both leadership and talent for the Harpeth Hall athletic teams. During the fall, Seniors Paige Thomas, Laura Lynn Molesworth and Angie Gaw demonstrated much of their talent on the volleyball court. Both Paige and Angie received All-District and ALL-NIL honors in addition to Paige's All-Tournament award at Father Ryan and Laura Lynn's election to the second team of the district. Peggy Pendergrass and Sarah Sitton received All-District honors for their contributions to the soccer team. In basketball, Sarah received All-District, second team All-Nashville, and Honorable Mention from the local papers. The track team benefitted from the leadership of Seniors Peggy Pendergrass, Jessica Reynolds, Amanda McPherson, and Tracy Orcutt. Tracy took first place in the state meet in both the one-mile and two-mile runs. On the tennis court, Diana Cherry smashed her way to a first place victory in the regional tournament. These Seniors' athletic abilities met with much-deserved recognition.

Leaders

Under the direction of Mrs. Anita Schmid, Mrs. Ginger Justus, and Mrs. Sandra Davis, the fifth annual Leadership Conference was both a productive and rewarding experience. Upper School student leaders gathered with faculty members the weekend of August 24 at Brandon Springs, Land Between the Lakes, Kentucky to learn different methods of efficient leadership and organization.

The main goal of the conference was to teach the students to be good leaders. This task was accomplished through skits, a session during which leaders were assigned to observe, identify, and play specific roles, a workshop on parliamentary procedure, and a practice for delivering introductions and announcements. In addition to these group sessions, the girls also met with their respective organizations to discuss and plan activities for the upcoming year. Between planned activities, there was also free time for swimming, hiking, and a movie which was shown Saturday evening.

Once again, the Leadership Conference was a success. Each participant learned something new, made new friends, and acquired the confidence needed to fulfill her duties as a leader in the school.

Back-to-School Barbecue

Over the summer the Student Council decided to have a fun get-together before school started. The Back-to-School Barbecue was held in Morrison Gym on Thursday, August 30. The classes competed in a volleyball match and the freshmen won, a good way to start the year. Everyone also played the "Harpeth Hall Trivia Game," which revealed such facts as Mr. Wood's former role as Mr. Young's babysitter. After the game, barbecue and watermelon were provided for the hungry participants. The Student Council's Back-to-School Barbecue proved a great way to start the year.

Freshmen Orientation

On the afternoon of August 27, the Student Council and the Junior class welcomed incoming Freshmen and new students to the Harpeth Hall Upper School. The Juniors greeted their little sisters. In the gallery and all the girls went into the auditorium where they witnessed the miracles performed in the Student Council skit, "The Wizard of Wood." Following the skit, the members of the Student Council, the Honor Council, and the presidents of the clubs and organizations were introduced. Mrs. Jacques and Mrs. Schmid then officially welcomed the audience to the 1984-1985 school year. After the skit and speeches, the Freshmen and new students toured the campus and enjoyed refreshments in the gallery.

Double, Double, Toil and Trouble . . .

Every year Harpeth Hall celebrates Halloween. This year everyone was encouraged to join in the festivities by dressing along with a class. The themes were the Freshmen Flower Children, the Sophomore Surfers, the Junior Jailbirds, and the Senior Citizens. Held during lunch, the Halloween Party started as usual with the English department decked out in flowing, black robes and witch's hats to deliver their devilish rhymes. Several weeks earlier each class chose two representatives to participate in a costume contest between the classes. Sophomores Kathy Jackson and Christina Varallo won as Mexican tacos complete with accents. The costume contest was then followed by bobbing for apples, won by a drenched Laura Lynn Molesworth. The great end to the party came when a huge Halloween cake was brought out for all to devour.

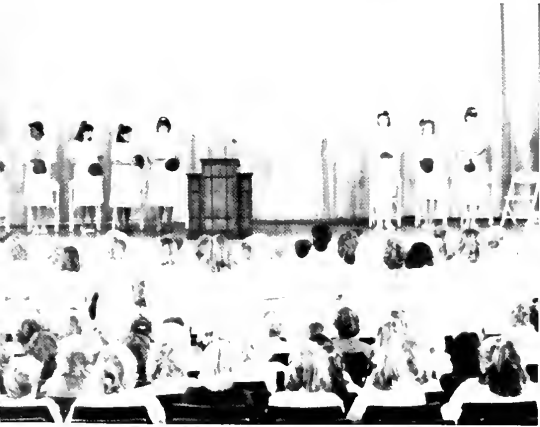

Peace be with you, sisters!

Seniors Singled Out

The traditional Senior Capping ceremony took place on Monday, October 1 to begin Senior Recognition Week. During the ceremony Elizabeth Hightower, President of Student Council, presented a speech to the student body about the many opportunities Harpeth Hall offers. Lezlie Lockett, President of Cum Laude, delivered a speech on honor and integrity. Lindy Rogers, President of the Senior Class, then welcomed everyone and inspired the Seniors to lead the school throughout the year. Following the speeches, Lindy and Elizabeth capped the officers, and the officers proceeded to cap the rest of the class. Afterwards the Senior Class recited the Senior oath and joined the student body in singing the Alma Mater.

Generation Gap? Not At The Grandmothers' Tea!

The Grandmother's Tea, a Middle School tradition, was held on November 19. More than a hundred grandmothers attended this year from such places as North Carolina and Oregon. Each year this event is sponsored by the Middle School Council. A few weeks before the tea party the girls send invitations to their grandmothers. On the day of the tea the members of the Middle School Council greet the grandmothers, keep the guestbook and serve the tea. The Middle School students, wearing their party dresses, have refreshments and visit with their grandmothers. The seventh graders provide the entertainment with a choral program. As always, the Grandmothers' Tea was a success.

Grandmothers are a girl's best friend.

Around The World

On Thursday, October 25, the American Field Service held its annual celebrations of Foreign Lands. Many rooms in Wallace Wing were decorated to reflect the cultures of various countries. This year participants were able to "travel" to such countries as France, Japan, England, Russia, Holland, and India. While visiting these lands, everyone could taste regional food and see examples of native costumes and decorations.

A.F.S. uses the money raised by Celebrations to sponsor foreign exchange students. Although Harpeth Hall has no exchange student this year, enough money was raised to ensure that we have one next year. A.F.S. president Candie Bogie and sponsor Mr. Tuzeneu did an outstanding job of making Celebrations a huge success.

Hurry Up And Take The Picture!

In Eighty Minutes

Everyone Went Crazy!

This year the Student Council again sponsored the annual Fall Combo. For weeks preceding the event, the Council encouraged the student body to contribute ideas for a theme. Everyone was invited to participate not only in the fun at the dance, but also in the fun of preparing for the dance. The theme finally selected by the students and the Council was "Let's Go Crazy," and on the night of Saturday, November 3, everyone did, indeed, "go crazy." Dancing to the music of Blue Max, the party began at eight and rocked on until midnight. And, as always, a great time was enjoyed by all who attended—the chaperones, the faculty, the band, and, of course, the girls and their dates.

Family Feuds

Because the four clubs were abolished as of this year, the Student Council introduced a new form of sporting challenges—sister challenges. The challenges consist of various games in which the Seniors and Sophomores compete against the Juniors and Freshmen. The competitions take place during assembly periods and attendance is optional. The primary function of these sister challenges is to create a spirited atmosphere in each of the different classes. The winning team does not receive points to work towards an award, they just get the satisfaction of winning and therefore grow to be more unified and spirited.

Objection Overruled!

Speak Now,

Assembly is the part of the day that unites the Upper School. During assembly, groups and speakers share their experiences with the student body. The subjects discussed vary from politics to the diseases of the Presidents. Whether the program concerns Safe Rides or watching a teaser for ANYTHING GOES, assembly period is an opportunity for the school to gather together. Various school organizations plan assemblies, including Penstaff, the Student Council, and the chorus. The Student Council promoted school pride during their assembly, while the Varsity cheerleaders overflowed with infectious school spirit in their program. When asked what assembly means to her, a sophomore replied, "Assembly is a time for learning and sharing, a time when we can show spirit for our school and expand our community awareness." Assemblies can also be purely entertainment. They can take the form of school trivia matches or even full-fledged battleball wars. Be it serious or humorous, assembly is an important part of every school day.

Or Forever Hold Your Peace

What do you do to a bear that you meet?

Singing, Dancing, and Romancing . . .

Under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Davis, Mrs. Ray Berry, and Mr. Scott Leathers, the Harpeth Hall Playmakers' fall musical, ANYTHING GOES opened to a sold-out house. The outstanding result of the weeks of preparation, the play wowed crowds for three shows on November 16, 17, and 18.

Due to the hard work of cast and crew, everything from the set to the costumes contributed to the success of the show. Rebecca Fogg, Michael Starr, and Dake Clark sang and danced their way into the hearts of the audience, respectively portraying the roles of Reno, Billy, and Moonface, while Dallas Hagewood and James Hoffman played the engaged couple, Hope and Sir Evelyn. One pleased spectator happily remarked, "I really admire the hard work and dedication it must have taken to produce this show, and it has been one of the best I've seen." As all agreed, ANYTHING GOES was, indeed, delicious, delectable, and simply "delovely."

The January Experience

Once again January proved to be a valuable month to the Harpeth Hall Community, teachers, and community sponsors included. Freshmen and sophomores participated in the on-campus program, offering such courses as Dr. Marney's ever-popular (and informative) Human Sexuality course. Other artistically and athletically inclined students participated in dance, basketball, and arts classes. A few lucky sophomores basked in the sun with Mrs. Watterfield and Mrs. Russ. The teachers enjoyed the on-campus Winterim program as much as the students did.

Off campus programs offered a variety of opportunities as well. Juniors and Seniors skied in Austria, enjoyed Italian culture (as well as men), and some even managed to gain weight on the Outward Bound survival trip. Work/Study programs reached into the law, medicine, social service, and educational communities, to name but a few. Many of the participants developed long-lasting relationships with their co-workers and continue to visit them. One student commented "I only wish everyone could have this experience."

Lift Up Your Voices

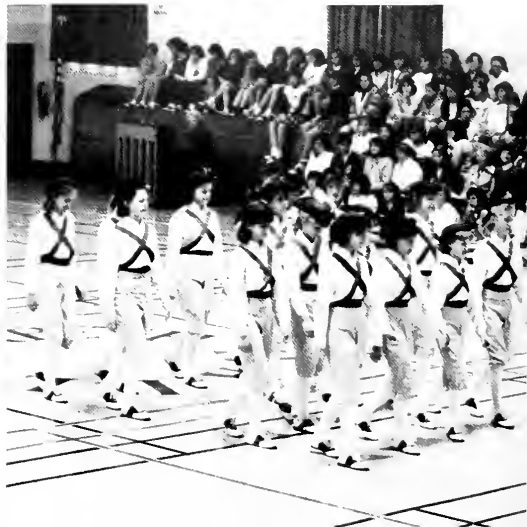

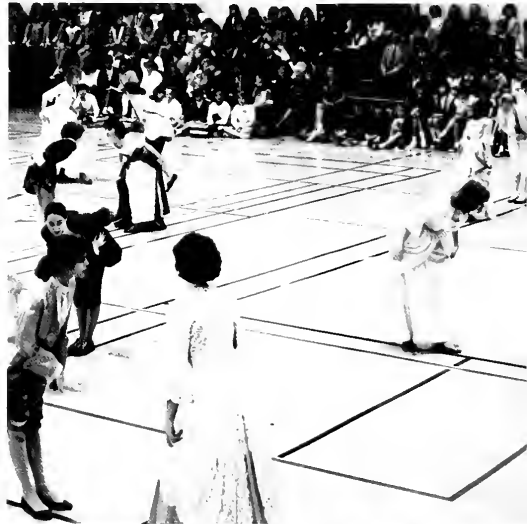

Harpeth Hall's chorus is a refined product of demanding practice. Thirty-five girls meet three days a week to exercise their vocal cords. This year the chorus not only presented a beautiful Christmas program and entertaining assemblies, they also performed at several Memphis schools. One student explains that chorus provides a refreshing escape from the rigors of academic activities. Chorus director Ray Berry strives to teach the girls as much as possible while still allowing them to enjoy their own talent.

A Great Production, By George

On February 19, Harpeth Hall once again celebrated the birthday of George Washington. Supervised by Mrs. Merrie Clark, the seventh grade displayed their talent as they performed marching drills, nautical dances, and the minuet, all in honor of our first President. The soldiers learned their intricate drills from Mrs. Susan Russ, Mrs. Sandra Davis, and eighth grader Beth Sullins. The sailors' dance was taught by Ms. Leslie Matthews. And the entire group, soldiers, sailors, gentlemen, and gentlewomen alike, were led by Mrs. Nina Watkins in a few songs about the military victories of Washington. Two tableaus were performed, one illustrating Washington's victory over Britain and another illustrating his crossing of the Potomac. Elected by the seventh grade, Christine Johnston and Jenny Walker portrayed President and Lady Washington. As before, the presentation was enjoyed immensely by faculty, parents, and students.

The Harpeth Hall Middle School's presentation of ALICE IN WONDERLAND on March first and second was a great success. The auditorium was filled with enthusiastic audiences both evenings. Eleanor Jones fit the part of Alice right down to her purposeful stance, and Margaret Wirth as the Mad Hatter lent even more zaniness to the already bizarre story. Persons having rather abstract senses of humor found the play exactly to their liking, though some audience members may have been left a little disconcerted by the play's sometimes obscure humor. The hard work put into the set, costumes, and acting really paid off in two memorable performances from the drama department.

Gosh Alice, I'm all feet when it comes to dancing!

Luau on Morrison Beach

Hawaiian Holiday was once again a huge success. After the final touches were added to the decorations, everyone hit "Morrison Beach" to rock to the beat of "Autumn." Mrs. Ginger Justus took on the task of distributing the colorful leis, while Mrs. Jane Jacques and others took up tickets and chaperoned the dance. Everyone showed off their Spring Break souvenirs—shorts, shirts and sunglasses (not to mention suntans). The Student Council pulled off another miracle—Morrison was transformed from just another highschool gym to a full-fledged beach party, complete with palm trees.

Celebrity Spotlight

The annual Eighth Grade Combo came alive on Saturday, March 23 in the cafeteria where the eighth grade was "puttin' on the ritz." The band, Sinamon Leaf, rocked from 7:30 to 11:30 while the girls and their dates crowded the dance floor. Pictures of movie stars from the fifties, framed by red and white balloons and streamers, decorated the walls to complement the theme of "The Glamorous Life." The backdrop featured a picture of Marilyn Monroe and James Dean, while the appearance of celebrity Lynn Anderson heightened the glamour of the evening.

"It's a glamorous life!"

Spring Into

The assembly period, which serves a variety of purposes, is a valuable part of the day at Harpeth Hall. This spring, as always, the assemblies were both entertaining and interesting. Several successful career women came to speak about opportunities for women in the working world. The students learned about nursing and the "Cherry Ames syndrome," the ROTC program and military life, and the growing role of women in engineering. Also, the student body had a chance to honor the outstanding students in Cum Laude and Quill and Scroll, and to hear Becca Fogg, a talented musician, play the violin. Teasers promoted interest in the middle school play, the spring play and the dance concert. Two guest speakers, Jerry Burg, an expert on chemical dependency, and John Kuykendall, the president of Davidson College, come to share their knowledge with the students. Whether it was a lecture or a skit, each assembly was a special experience shared by the students.

A Crime

The Harpeth Hall Playmakers presented C.B. Gilford's BULL IN A CHINA SHOP this spring on April 19 and 20. This delightful mystery/comedy was first published in the ELLERY QUEEN MYSTERY MAGAZINE and was later shown on "Alfred Hitchcock Presents." The plot centers on six old maids who commit murder in order to catch the attention of their next-door neighbor, the handsome Detective O'Finn. The superb cast, under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Davis, included Michael Starr as the Irish detective Dennis O'Finn, Dillie Sloan as the obnoxious reporter Jane, and Carol Cavin, Kristen Breuss, Deborah Deckner, Jill Blevins, Mandy Haynes, and Nancy Trondsen as the six old maids. Barbara Keith Brown was originally cast as Miss Birdie, one of the elderly ladies. Kramer was played by Don Fish, Johnson was played by David Wood, and the stretcher bearers were played by Billy Carothers and John Mahoney. The hard work of everyone involved was evident in this professionally-done performance. A detailed set representing Miss Hildegard's parlor added to the atmosphere of the play. The young actresses looked more than sixty years older with the help of realistic-looking latex masks. BULL IN A CHINA SHOP received rave reviews from everyone who attended. This excellent performance gave the audience chills and made them laugh all at the same time, and the ending left everyone with a smile.

Diet? What Diet?

The Dessert Fest was an interesting and entertaining activity sponsored by AFS. Students and Faculty had a chance to get together and sample delicious desserts from different countries. Mexico, Italy, France, America, Germany, England, and China were each represented with tempting and fattening desserts. Everyone enjoyed the fortune cookies, truffles, brownies, chocolate eclairs, German chocolate cake, and other goodies. The Dessert Fest was a delicious way to learn a little about the civilizations of other countries. It was a great success, though many over-indulgers went home with a bit of a stomach ache.

Candie, say aaahh!

Rounding Up Excitement

Barbecue and bands describe the Harpeth Hall Round-Up that was sponsored by the Mother's Auxiliary and that was held on April 26 in Morrison Gymnasium. A barbecue supper was served in the gym from 5:00-8:00, while "The Pink Elephants," a local high school band, played in the auditorium. Each student was encouraged to sell thirty tickets not only to increase her chances for a free tuition next year but also to contribute to her individual class holiday. An auction began at 7:30 with Frank Crowell, "The Voice of Vandy," as the auctioneer. All this excitement led to another feature of the Round-Up: a concert by the nationally-known, Nashville-based group, "The White Animals." The band was a smash, and it provided a fitting finale to the night's festivities. As one mother said, "The Round-Up was a successful, entertaining, and rewarding, event for Harpeth Hall."

A Dreamy

The Junior-Senior Prom was a return to the age of chivalry and heraldic deeds where every girl could capture her knight in shining armor. Prom evening, May 4, was, like its theme, "a midsummer night's dream." The gallery became a medieval castle adorned with pink, grey, and white balloons. A fountain bubbled in one courtyard while other greenery-surrounded seating arrangements provided a relaxing place to converse. A stone castle standing among distant mountains served as a backdrop for prom pictures. Prom Queen was Tracy Orcutt and seniors Jessica Reynolds and Scottie Hill, junior Jenny Amacher, sophomore Beth Berry, and freshman Hayden Harris comprised her court. The band, "Alethia," took dancing couples from the Middle Ages to the modern era with the latest in rock music. The Junior Class gave each senior an engraved bud vase and also prepared a breakfast for the senior class. The juniors' efforts made this prom a magical night to remember.

Dancing Into

The Harpeth Hall Dance Clubs' annual Spring Concert, held on May 10, 11, and 12, was an outstanding display of talent. Before the performance Ms. Leslie Matthews, director of dance, dedicated the concert to "Leigh Horton, whose courage and joy remain an inspiration to all the lives she so briefly touched." The first piece, "For Leigh: A New Day," was a solo by Anna Kate Cannon. The moving tribute incorporated sign language to express the love felt by all the members of the Harpeth Hall community. Next came "Lettin' Up On Me," choreographed by Becky Hinshaw and performed by Anne Altenbern, Beth Miller, and Lee Richmond. In contrast to this piece's calm quality was the Tap Club's bouncy number, "That Boy From New York City." In the Modern Club's first number, "The Storm," the dancers portrayed conditions before, during, and after a storm. "Carnival," the energetic piece by the Ballet Club, was followed by the Jazz Club's "Jazz, Too," performed to the popular tune, "Axel F." The Tap Club's second piece, "Sing, Sing, Sing," was a lively, forties-style number. In "Magic Mists Move Mundane," Modern Dancers showed how an artist's soul exists in the everyday world. "The Best of Jazz" was the exciting finale. Thanks to the hard work of Ms. Matthews, Mrs. Stephanie Hamilton, and the dancers, the concert was an outstanding success.

"A New Day"

"Hey, look at the cute guy on the second row!"

This year's Father-Daughter Banquet on March 28 had a number of interesting innovations. The festivities were held at the newly-opened Vanderbilt Plaza Hotel, and for the first time fathers and daughters could have their pictures taken together to commemorate the event. Another first for the banquet was the fact that this year's speech was given by Mr. Richard Speight, father of senior Lindy Speight. In lieu of a typical speech, Mr. Speight gave the girls three valuable pieces of advice.

Many features of the Banquet remained unchanged. It was again sponsored by the Harpeth Hall Men's Club and, as the past years, the food was delicious. The Chorus performed songs from several Broadway shows, and each girl received a rose as a memento of the evening. The night was a success—all present and future students and their dads, uncles, or family friends had a wonderful time.

Scholars Show Their Merit

Every year Harpeth Hall students are recognized by the National Merit Corporation for their great academic achievement. National Merit honors are based on PSAT scores. This year Candie Bogie, Amanda McPherson, and Lindy Speight scored in the top five percent to become National Merit Commendees. Karen Cashion, Elizabeth Hightower, and Lezlie Lockett were among the fifteen thousand Semi-Finalists across the country who scored in the top half of one percent. After further competition Elizabeth Hightower and Lezlie Lockett were named National Merit Finalists, and Lezlie received a $2000 scholarship. National Merit commendation not only is an academic honor but also can lead to scholarship money from colleges or corporations. Certainly these students recognized by the National Merit Corporation have earned our praise with their laudable efforts and accomplishments.

Eat, Drink, and Be Merry

The annual All Club Picnic was held on May 23 in Morrison Gym. The ceremonies commenced with the class song competition, which was won by the Juniors. The singing was more emotional than competitive, and more than one cheek was wet by the end of the last song. Then came the multitude of awards. Senior Lezlie Lockett made several trips to receive such awards as the Pickens Science Award and the Sophie Dobson Award. Also receiving numerous awards were Anna Carney, Mandy Haynes, and Beth Mitchell, who won the distinction of receiving a score of 100 on the National Latin Exam. After countless rounds of standing up and sitting down, everyone was given a chance to walk around and enjoy a popsicle before continuing with the awards. The Lady of the Hall, Elizabeth Hightower, and her court were announced, and the new Student Council officers were instated. Amidst the tears and camera flashes, final farewells were made to the leaving Seniors and the school year of 1984-85 formally came to a close.

The Last

The graduating seniors and the faculty enjoyed a catered buffet under a patio tent at the elegant home of Amanda McPherson the night of the Senior Banquet. After the meal, Sarah Sitton, Anna Kate Cannon, Lindy Speight, and Gigi Hudson dressed up as elderly ladies and shed light on the futures of the graduates. Student Council Elizabeth Hightower and class historian Peggy Pendergrass then read the history of the class. Afterwards, Peggy showed several slides of different members of the class. The slides, collected by Peggy during the year, were projected with a sentimental musical accompaniment Lindy Rogers then took a few moments to reflect on the past year and to thank the faculty, staff, and the seniors for their support. Finally, amid tears and goodbyes, the class joined hands in a circle and sang "Friends are Friends Forever" by Michael W. Smith. The seniors then made a class pledge to return to Harpeth Hall every five years for heart-warming reunions.

Supper

Dressed in pristine, white dresses, the Class of 1985 entered the auditorium on Sunday, June 2 for their Baccalaureate Service. Ruthie Frederiksen, Chaplain of the class, began the ceremony with an invocation. Mr. Wood then gave a welcoming address to family, friends, and members of the class. After the senior prayer and Lindy Roger's introduction of the speaker, the Reverend Edwin Coleman of St. George's Church presented an inspirational and thought-provoking speech on the importance of active involvement. Afterwards, Ruthie gave the benediction, and the Class of 1985 recessed into the gallery for a tea.

Ceremonies

The ringing of the Harpeth Hall bell on June 2 at 4:00 p.m. signified the traditional presentation of the Lady of the Hall and her court and the Junior-Senior Step Singing ceremony. The two classes lined up in front of Souby Hall facing the North Lawn. The Junior officers laid down the daisy chain which is a tribute to the class of 1985. The Seniors then sang the senior song, "The Circle Game" written by Joni Mitchell. Mr. Wood came forward to receive the senior class gift, a contribution to the maintenance and beautification of the Leigh Horton Garden. Senior Class President Lindy Rogers called forth Carol Cavin, president of the class of 1986, to pass on the books and records of the senior class activities. The juniors then recited the Senior Oath and sang their class song, "Friends." In closing, the seniors sang "Get Together" by the Youngbloods and led the singing of the Harpeth Hall Alma Mater.

Harpeth Hall's First Lady

Each year one senior is chosen to be Lady of the Hall, an honor bestowed upon a student who embodies the ideals of Harpeth Hall—leadership, enthusiasm, and involvement in the many activities offered. This year's Lady of the Hall, Elizabeth Hightower, proved to be an enthusiastic and caring leader in her position as President of the Student Council. She was involved in activities ranging from playing on the soccer team to leading the Quiz Bowl team. As part of the Step Singing ceremony, Elizabeth was crowned Lady of the Hall while surrounded by her court in front of Souby Hall. The court consisted of Mandy Haynes, Senior representative, Beth Miller, Junior representative, Ellen Crawford, Sophomore representative, Karen Greer, Freshman representative, a crown bearer, two heralds, and two flower girls. Elizabeth Hightower carries on the Harpeth Hall tradition of excellence as the 1984-1985 Lady of the Hall.

Recognizing the

The eighth grade class of 1985 was recognized for their many achievements on Middle School Honor Day. Miss Emily Haynes began the ceremony with an invocation. This was followed by a performance of the seventh grade chorus. The Reverend Suzanne G. Braden of United Methodist Church gave the address. Miss Polly Fessey then presented awards to the girls who achieved excellence in certain areas. The Polly Fessey Award was given to Tina Adams, while Jennifer Rose won the Patty Chadwell Award, and Marla Connelly won the Daugh W. Smith Award and the Latin Award. The Class Spirit Awards were given to Dede Simons, Susie Creagh, and Christine Johnston. Mr. David E. Wood presented certificates to the class of 1985. The ceremony concluded with the singing of the Alma Mater and a choral benediction by the sixth grade.

Middle School

Looks Like

The Senior Class of 1985 graduated in the presence of family, friends, faculty members, and fellow students on the beautiful evening of June 3. Following the procession of the Seniors and an invocation given by Senior Class chaplain Ruthie Frederiksen, the Harpeth Hall Chorus presented two pieces appropriate for the occasion. After the presentation of awards to several of the graduates and to Harpeth Hall alumna, Tracy Caulkins, senior Barbara Keith Brown delivered a speech describing the class's spirit and enthusiasm for their school and their hopes for the future. The Honorable Albert Gore, Jr., United States Senator, then delivered an inspiring address urging the graduates to fulfill their dreams for the future to the best of their abilities.

Following Senator Gore's speech, Mr. Wood and Mr. Robert Kitchell, chairman of the Harpeth Hall Board of Trustees, presented diplomas to the graduates. The Senior Class sang their class song "Circle Game," by Joni Mitchell, and the ceremony closed with the Alma Mater and a benediction given by Mr. Wood.

We Made It!!

The Goodbye Makes the Journey Harder . . .

... Something Beautiful Remains

On Sunday, May 19 the Leigh Horton Garden was dedicated in memory of Elizabeth Leigh Horton, a member of the Class of 1985. Senior Mandy Haynes served as mistress of ceremonies for the simple yet beautiful service. The Reverend Julien Gunn gave the invocation and benediction, while remarks on Leigh's special character were delivered by Headmaster David Wood and Student Council President Elizabeth Hightower. Anna Kate Cannon provided an artistic expression of the beauty of Leigh's spirit with a moving dance to George Benson's "A New Day". The entire Class of 1985 then offered its own tribute to Leigh when it joined together in singing "Friends" by Michael W. Smith. Following the class song, Trisi Stevenson turned on the fountain, and for the first time water sprung forth alongside the sculpture of a young girl sitting on the beach.

Leigh Horton's spirit will live on in this truly peaceful spot that will be enjoyed by members of the Harpeth Hall community for years to come. "For every joy that passes, something beautiful remains."

First Honors Go to Lezlie Lockett

The Katie Wray Award is given every year to the senior with the highest cumulative grade average. This year's recipient, Lezlie Lockett, not only enjoyed an outstanding academic career at Harpeth Hall, but she also participated in many extracurricular activities. A member of the MILESTONES staff since her sophomore year, Lezlie served this year as Copy Editor of the yearbook. Further, Lezlie was a member of JCL for two years and the French Club and AFS for four years. She participated in Key Club activities all of her four years at Harpeth Hall and served as Key Club secretary her senior year.

Lezlie's academic excellence was recognized by her induction into several Harpeth Hall honor societies; among these were Quill and Scroll and the Société Honoraire de Français. Lezlie was also inducted into Cum Laude and Mu Alpha Theta, and she was the president of both clubs. Despite her heavy involvement in school activities, Lezlie found time to be active in her church youth group and church choir.

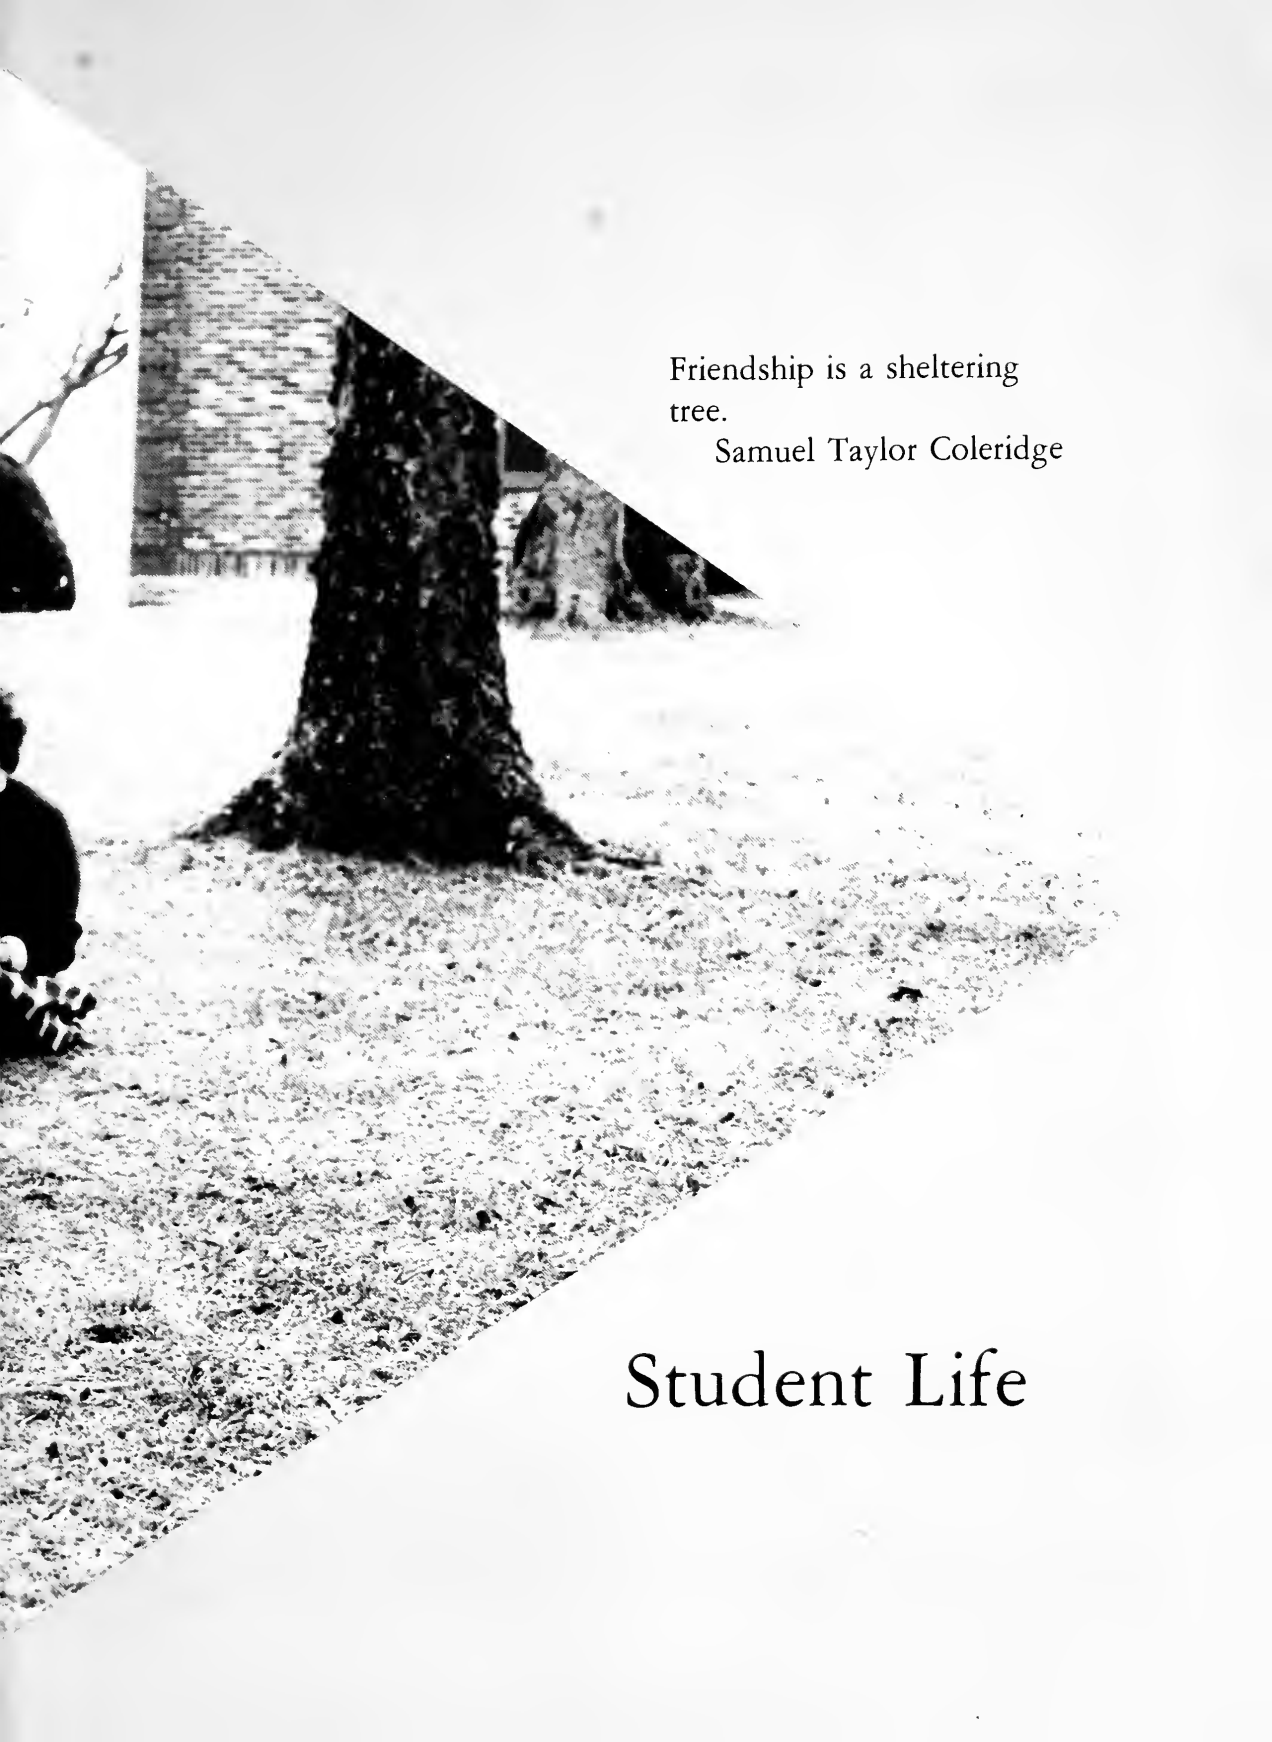

Lezlie will attend Vanderbilt this fall, as a recipient of one of the nine Harold Stirling Vanderbilt scholarships. That Lezlie is the first Harpeth Hall student to receive this honor is a fitting tribute to her superior academic ability.

Student Life

Birth of a

When school opened in the fall of 1984, the students returned to find Little Harpeth missing. Yes, the ground had been leveled and little Harpeth with it. Gone were the old biology and chemistry labs, history rooms, and the beloved, oft-occupied Cubby-hole. Coming was a brand new math and science building, complete with two biology labs and two chemistry labs. Across the campus, the new sixth grade complex was being erected. At long last the babies of HH were going to lord over their own domain.

Work began in the summer and as the year progressed, the girls watched the buildings being constructed and the workmen watched the girls. Sunbathing was absolutely prohibited; it was reported that more was accomplished during spring break than at all other times combined. In early April the students were treated to a tour through the math/science building and saw proof of the year-long banging. All things considered, construction marked the end of an older era at Harpeth Hall and heralded in a new one.

Building

Dig boys, dig!!

Every girl at Harpeth Hall has experienced it: looking at the clock at 12:50 and praying silently that the lunch bell rings before death due to starvation occurs. When the bell finally releases its fifth period prisoners, the classrooms are vacated with amazing speed, and all the bodies are quickly transported to that cultural and recreational center, the cafeteria. Lunch has begun.

Many valuable lessons are learned in the cafeteria. We students acquire patience while waiting in seemingly unending lines for our food. Our sense of adventure is stimulated, and we hear ourselves saying, "I'd like the lumpy gray stuff with the green sauce." Finally, we defy the laws of physics by cramming twenty of our friends at a table designed for eight.

Lunch also provides a time for needed discussions. Where else can students cram for English while plotting tortures for math teachers? Where else can we catch up on gossip while munching on cold french fries? And where else can we make those all-important plans for the weekend? It all happens in the cafeteria.

And Be Merry

Faculty: The Saga

Dear Auntie Em,

Hope you don't miss Toto and me too much. Ignore all those silly rumors of our having landed in Oz; the storm blew us to this place called Harpeth Hall. I don't know if you and Uncle Henry have heard of it. Don't fret over us; it's a pretty neat-o keen place. The faculty members are great. They're really interested in how we feel about things and take time to listen and advise. It's not a preachy-teachy situation at all. Like, we even LAUGH in class—not at all like in Kansas. And it doesn't end in the classroom. Why, even in the office and library, they smile and ask you how you are! (Remember how stuffy those ladies in my Kansas school were?!) But wait, there's more. They do funky things like sponsor clubs and coach sports. Basically, they're pretty awesome.

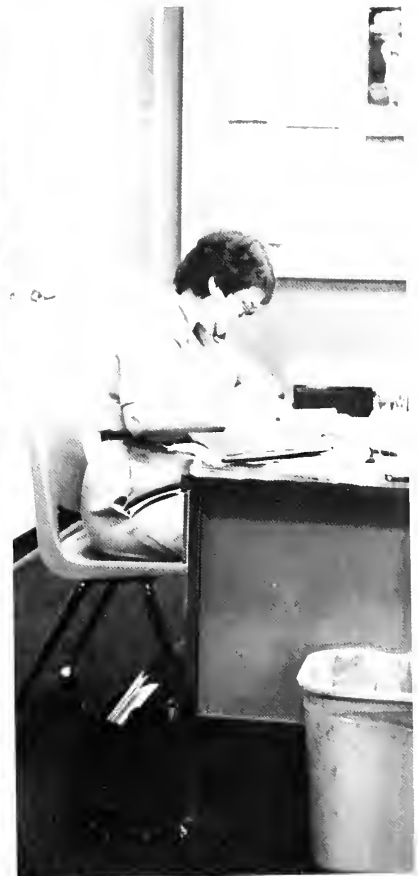

Well, don't be expecting me back soon. My magic bee-bops haven't even begun to collect dust. Gotta go now. Another thing about the faculty: they like to give homework.

Love and munchkins,
Dorothy

P.S. Toto says hi.

Spring Fever Hits

Longingly looking out the window, staring at the spring sky . . . the birds sing in the trees, a gentle breeze tosses the daffodils to and fro . . .

"Caroline, would you care to tune in to our class?"

"Oh, I'm sorry, it's just this, well, um, gosh, nevermind . . ."

Well, um, gosh, it's SPRING FEVER!!

Every spring, right around term paper time, an incredibly irresistible urge to be outside hits the Harpeth Hall inhabitants. Everyone from student to teacher dreams of being outside with the birds and the bees singing in the trees and finds being inside nothing short of boring. Nevertheless, work continues as usual. Amidst thoughts of sun-tan oil, sun-tanned boys, and sun-filled days, the "long haul" till spring break proceeds. Talk of "Where are you going for spring break?" and "I've got to lose ten pounds!" intermingle with talk of Vergil, right triangles, Progressivism, nested loops, Adam and Eve, and plant reproduction. And when 2:45 on the last day finally arrives, jubilant squeals and relieved sighs fill the halls. No, Harpeth Hall just wouldn't be the same without spring fever, and spring wouldn't be the same without it, either.

The Halls of Harpeth

Searching for the great outdoors.

Why does every student anxiously await to find out her grades each quarter? It isn't to see whether or not she'll be grounded; it isn't even to see whether she'll be able to go to the college of her choice. No, the main reason for all the nervousness is that everybody wants to escape the drudgery of required study hall. The lucky few who are exempt can experience the joys of the Bear Lair. This student sanctuary provides a place to sleep, to gossip, to play the piano, or just to be loud and crazy. A few optimists try to study but soon realize the uselessness of their actions. Soon everyone is lounging around, drinking Diet Coke and eating Dole Fruit and Juice Bars. The Bear Lair does have its faults. Many students have suggested putting a warning on the radio that reads "CAUTION: This machine mangles tapes." However, the artistic decorations and relaxed atmosphere make the Bear Lair a great place to hang out.

The Nashville night life gets me every time.

It's Friendship

It's as old as man himself,
yet as new as this moment or the next.
It's ever changing
and some how ever constant.
It's stronger than any wall ever built.
It overcomes politics
and national barriers.
It can't be blinded by strange customs or blocked by foreign languages.
It has been written about
and analyzed by wise men;
Yet it has never been defined,
and never will be.
You can't see it or touch it,
yet it is everywhere.
It survives weakness and neglect,
thrives on thoughtfulness.
Its possibilities are infinite,
its strength limitless.
It's what makes man human,
what makes life worth living.
It's friendship.

Eleanor Leah Woods

Friendship, the theme of the 1985 MILESTONES, is an especially appropriate focus for Harpeth Hall's annual. The editors have chosen poems and quotations that reflect the friendship and rapport which exist not only between the faculty and the student body, but also among the students themselves.

This past year I have witnessed the deepening of friendships in the senior class. The sixty-five seniors represent a myriad of personalities and interests, yet we have come to accept and respect each other and, in so doing, have become a more caring and united class.

As graduates, we can look back, aware of Harpeth Hall's influence in guiding us to our highest potential in three areas—academics, the fine arts, and sports. In addition, Harpeth Hall has given us some tools for leading a successful life—namely, a solid academic foundation, a knowledge of self-discipline, and the help of supportive friends.

We believe the 1985 MILESTONES demonstrates, in a unique way, the friendships that are characteristic of the Harpeth Hall community. As we all move on to the challenges of the future, may we never forget the necessary ingredient to a fulfilled and well-balanced life—friendship.
